

May, 1989

- 7) Upper ridge continues over west,
but upper low off west is approaching with much subtropical moisture expected in a day or two.
114° D.V.
- 8) Strong Sundowner winds in and around Santa Barbara after sunset - up to 48 mph from NW to N @
The airport in Goleta @ 2100 Santa Barb. At 81°, Nat 13 PG 21
- 9) Upper low off So Cal coast moving thru AM, another ^{Upper} Low Expected late tomorrow & on 11th; Strong SE winds along coast.
Coastal winds + Blowing Dust, in No. Deserts; T Storm moved North into Ventura County \approx 0900, w/ fringe of storm over West SFV - Chats - Trace Rubble .01" Iverson .03" $\frac{1}{2}$ " hail in Oxnard
- 10) Strong winds still N. Deserts & Owens Valley
due to deep surface low over Utah - gusts to 50 Thunderstorms over N. SFV mid eve.
- 15) Upper low dropping South over L.A. tonight, w/ scattered showers
- 24) Broad Upper trough continues over the West. U.S., w/ high pressure @ surface bldg. over N. Cal.; NNW Sundowner winds today @ Santa Barbara.